Jake Rosenbloom

Jake Rosenbloom is CEO and Founder at Levee, an enterprise software company that helps service sector companies find workers who stay by removing bias from recruiting and hiring processes. Levee is the largest service sector labor platform in Latin America, with team in Brazil, Colombia and Mexico, and is backed by leading global impact and venture capital investors. Prior to founding Levee, Jake opened the Goldman Sachs Latin America Special Situations Group business in Mexico and Brazil and was the fifth employee at Endeavor Colombia. Jake is a Penn Lauder MA and Wharton MBA graduate, and holds a BS in Management Science & Engineering from Stanford.