

Ben Wesley Shephard is a Senior Vice President at Silicon Valley Bank (SVB) where he works with Enterprise Software companies in the tri-state area. Prior to SVB, Ben was the Finance Lead within the IBM Competitive Cloud Strategy team where he managed a robust financial model for major IBM Cloud Competitors, assisted in providing an M&A perspective on potential IBM acquisitions, and regularly blogged for the CxOs at IBM regarding competitor strategies.

Ben serves as an alumni interviewer for both the University of Pennsylvania and the College of the Holy Cross in Massachusetts. Ben is passionate about Technology and wrote his masters thesis about first-mover advantage of SaaS companies around the world. Additionally, he is an active member of the Wharton Alumni Angel Network (WAAN) where he is part of the selection committee. He has worked with many startup founders to prepare them for funding.

Originally from Harlem, New York, Ben currently resides in Fleetwood, New York with his wife, Naima, and his daughter, Nya. Ben received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the College of the Holy Cross, in Worcester Massachusetts, a Master of Business Administration degree from The Wharton School, and a Master's Degree in International Studies from the University of Pennsylvania's School of Arts and Sciences.